

Chromebook How To's

How To Open The Lockdown Browsers

To open the lockdown browsers, you must have already been logged into your laptop while at school for proper internet access. If you have, then you can skip the first two steps below.

For the students to launch the lockdown browser, they must follow these steps.

Log into the chromebook (if not in already, this is for internet authentication).

Log out of the chromebook.

While at the desktop, click on the Apps icon, lower left of the screen.

Respondus is the Lockdown Browser, click on it.

The first time opened it will ask for a school name. Type in Knox Community .....it will find our school, select it and enter.

The Canvas log in will come up and the student is ready to go.

To exit the browser, power off the chromebook.

Power back on to log in again.
